

Title : “@ISAgromia – Nature in the city”

Título : “@ISAgromia – A natureza na cidade”

Date - 18th may 2022, 10 am-12:30 am

Nature of the event: Indoor event; Internal – presentations

Target Audience: academy, students, ornamental industry, local government, private companies, political decision makers and municipality technicians

Description:

This workshop will discuss important aspects related to urban green infrastructures with a special focus in the Lisbon city. The workshop will present and discuss some of the major issues concerning management of urban trees and gardens, urban horticulture, and urban biodiversity spots. The workshop will also include a presentation of the initiative European Green Cities Award – Portugal, its activities.

Overall, this is an actual and relevant topic for urban areas, which are experiencing fast changes and increasing problems (pollution, climate extremes, etc.). The event will be relevant for a wide audience (academy, students, ornamental industry, local government, private companies, political decision makers and municipality technicians) and it will be a joint initiative of the LPVVA (Laboratório de Patologia Vegetal Veríssimo de Almeida - <https://www.isa.ulisboa.pt/lpvva>) and the LEAF (Linking Landscape, Environment, Agriculture and Food research Centre - <https://www.isa.ulisboa.pt/en/leaf>).
